CLAY PRODUCTS WORKERS QUIT IN 3 STATES

Lisbon, Liverpool Plants Among Those Involved In Contract Dispute

Some 2,700 workers who produce clay products struck in three states today, union leaders said, following a breakdown in contract negotiations. Plants in this district were affected.

Clyde Myers, business agent for district council No. 9 of the AFL-United Brick and Clay Workers of America, said the walkouts occurred in 23 plants in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Negotiations for a new contract collapsed in Akron Thursday, Myers said, and no further sessions have been scheduled.

Lisbon, Liverpool Affected

Myers listed the following plants as being involved in the strike: Robinson Clay Products Co., plants in Akron, Uhrichsville, Mogadore, O., and Clearfield, Pa.; Clay City Pipe Co., plants in Uhrichsville and Mecca, Ind.; Ross Clay Products Co., the Evans Pipe Co., Still Water Clay Products, Robinson & Sons, all of Uhrichsville.

Superior Clay Products Co., plants in Denison and Uhrichsville; Universal Sewer Pipe Corp., two plants in Uhrichsville, one in Diamond; the American Vitreous Products Co., plants in Barboursville, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Uhrichsville, and Brazil, Ind.

Denison Sewer Pipe Co., of Denison, O., Brockway Clay Co. of Brockway, Pa., and the Patton Clay Pipe Manufacturing Co. of Patton, Pa.

Myers said the union was demanding a 12-cent hourly pay boost plus any amount above that obtained by the CIO steel workers union, and other concessions.

Myers said the Union Clay Manufacturing Co. of Birmingham, N. Y., the Ohio Sewer Pipe Co., of Detroit, the Peerless Clay Manufacturing Co. of Toronto, O., and the Stratton Fire Clay Co. of Stratton, O., signed contracts yesterday meeting the union's demands and "we were not involved in the walkout."

Federal Labor Conciliator Paul Fuller said in addition to its effect on building in general, the strike would be felt in the steel industry as a shortage of hot tops developed. The tops are used in the production of ingot steel.

Baptists Seek Public Support As Church Fund Drive Opens

The First Baptist church launched a district-wide drive today to raise funds to aid in the construction of a new church edifice.

The Salem News is cooperating with church officials in this public appeal.

Since the disaster last Saturday morning, when the old church building at State and S. Lincoln was gutted by fire, many throughout the community have expressed a desire to help.

The campaign which opened today was organized to give opportunity to all individuals, groups or organizations who wish to contribute.

All donations should be sent to The Salem News. Checks should be made payable to the First Baptist church.

Progress of the drive, which will continue for two weeks, will be reported daily in these columns. Daily progress also will be shown on a large thermometer which will be mounted on the walls of the old brick structure.

Names of all donors will be recorded in the church files and a list later included among important documents to be placed in the cornerstone of the new church.

The First Baptist church has played an important part in the development of Salem. Its career dates back to its establishment in 1809, just three years after the city of Salem was incorporated.

The old brick building at the prominent downtown corner has been a landmark since 1869.

NAVY'S ISLAND BASE IN RUINS

Buildings and Equipment Near San Francisco Destroyed By Fire

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Treasure island, which glittered as the site of a pre-war explosion and then became a camouflage-painted naval base, was a scene of charred, water-soaked ruins today.

Fire struck the man-made island in San Francisco bay late yesterday. It destroyed five navy buildings and equipment at an estimated loss of $500,000. For awhile the entire installation was threatened.

The bay area's largest assembly of equipment in history brought the fire under control after a three-hour fight. While it raged, huge clouds of smoke billowing into the sky were visible nearly 30 miles away.

Thirty-four persons, 29 navy men and five civilians, remained, were injured, none seriously. The 12th naval district's estimate of damage included electronics equipment valued at more than $100,000.

Cause Unknown
The cause of the fire was unknown.

An official navy board of inquiry was named to investigate. The navy said a statement probably would be issued in two or three days. Sabotage was not suspected, a spokesman said.

Treasure island was the site of the 1939-1940 Golden Gate International exposition. At the start of the war it became a major navy personnel center.

All navy personnel were confined to the station after some looting had taken place among ship's stores, and supplies removed from buildings. All vehicles leaving Treasure island were searched.

Director Tells Why Water Is Muddy

Muddy Salem water is probably due to cleaning of wells in the city's supply fields and a shortage of Caigan, a preparation used to eliminate iron oxide in the water, Service Director Frank Wilson said today.

The "muddiness" is not harmful, Wilson said, but will be taken from the water when well cleaning and flushing of mains is completed this spring.

LIQUOR RATIONS END ON MONDAY

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 11—Liquor rationing will end in Ohio Monday, State Liquor Director Stanley B. Coffey announced today.

Sales of imported Scotch whisky still will be restricted, with state store employees under instructions to sell only one bottle to a customer, Coffey added.

"There will be no further rationing by card in the foreseeable future," the director said. "Should another emergency occur it will be dealt with as conditions require."

Ohio's 60th ration period in four years ends tomorrow and Coffey said the supply of bourbons and bonded whisky, which have been rationed, appeared sufficient. Scotch, however, is still available only in limited quantities, and the director remarked that shipments received would be divided equally between wholesale and retail outlets.

Ohio's liquor rationing program started June 1, 1943, because of wartime shortages of alcohol developing when distillers converted to war work such as synthetic rubber and industrial alcohol.

Find Woman's Body In Liverpool Shed

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 12—The battered body of a woman, identified as Mrs. Helen Beatrice Heddlston, 52, was found in a shack on Annesley road in nearby St. Clair township today.

Sheriff George E. Hayes questioned Earl Hargraves, aged 65, a pottery packer after a funeral director reported Hargraves came to his office here and asked him to embalm the body. The shack is owned by Hargraves.

The woman's face and legs were cut and bruised, possibly from blows, police said. Her clothing was wet, indicating she had fallen outside the shack, investigators said.

BUSINESS IN NATION GOOD

Rising Trend Pictured Although Some Areas Have Leveling Off

(By Associated Press)
Business in the United States is still showing an over-all rising trend, but there is evidence in some sections of the country of a leveling off.

The average citizen is spending more cautiously, and retail sales are beginning to drop in some cities. This is one of the first things the economists watch for as warning of a readjustment and possible recession.

In general, American industrial production is running ahead of last year and employment is high.

Kansas City, St. Louis, Dallas and San Francisco are among the centers where the fall in department store unit sales is most noticeable, according to a survey made by Associated Press bureaus throughout the country. A production decline is reported from Philadelphia.

Business Booming
In general, however, business is booming. The public still needs autos, automobiles, refrigerators, electrical appliances and other durable goods.

There was $28,247,000,000 in circulation last week, up $77,000,000 from the preceding week and $335,000,000 above a year ago. It was only slightly below the all-time high of $29,163,000,000 for the last Christmas period ending Dec. 26.

This is the current situation across the country in key centers: Boston — Massachusetts Department of Labor reports state's employment and payroll rising slightly. Sales in 47 New England department stores up 15 per cent in March in dollar volume over last year.

New York—Savings deposits hit all-time high in New York City in February at $7,390,000,000 compared with $6,698,000,000 in February, 1946. Factory workers' earnings at new high of $58.56 weekly in February, up five cents over January.

Anton L. Sklenick, 44, of R. D. 1, Beloit, died at 8:15 a. m. today at his home at Williams Corners, as a result of a self-inflicted rifle wound through the temple, Mahoning county Coroner Andrew Belinsky said today.

Poor health was believed to have caused despondency, Belinsky said. Employed as a crane operator at the E. W. Bliss Co. plant, he was born in Czechoslovakia, Sept. 13, 1902, the son of Anton and Anna Sklenicka. He came to this country when he was six years old.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Ellen Shastene Sklenicka; a daughter, Mrs. George Brown of Struthers; a son, Robert Anton, at home; his mother of Deerfield, two sisters, Mrs. James Johnson of Franklin Square, and Rose of Deerfield, and two brothers, Lewis of Deerfield and Aldrich of Salem.

Funeral service will be held at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Hope cemetery.

Name 86 Volunteer Workers To Aid Concert Association

The success of the membership campaign of the newly-organized Northern Columbiana County Community Concert association will depend in great part upon the group of 86 volunteer workers who have agreed to help bring a series of three first-class concerts here during the coming fall and winter season, according to Mrs. E. E. Dyball, who is serving as membership chairman.

Assisted by Mrs. Vesta King as co-chairman, Mrs. Dyball has invited these workers to a dinner which will launch the week's campaign Monday evening at the First Presbyterian church. They will receive instructions and material for enrolling members in the association.

Plan Daily Reports
They will report daily next week at headquarters at the Metzger hotel on their progress, with all application cards required to be in the hands of the secretary by 9 p. m. Saturday, April 19.

Although the workers are giving their time and energy throughout the week because of their desire to have distinguished music available to every resident of Salem and northern Columbiana county, Mrs. Dyball said, those who are able to register a requisite number of members will be given an honorary membership in the association.

The worker with the highest number of applications will be presented with a copy of the best-seller, "Enrico Caruso, His Life and Death," written and photographed personally by the great tenor's widow, Dorothy Caruso.

The campaign workers include: Mrs. J. Raymond Stiver, Miss Mary Wolcott, Miss Marguerite Vincent, Homer Taylor, Carl Beecher, John Gealy, Mrs. George Jones, and George Huston.

ASKS SOVIETS TO WITHDRAW FROM BALKANS

Would Be Signal For U. S. To Halt Program of Financial Aid

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 11—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) served notice today he will request the eventual withdrawal of Russian troops from the Balkans as a signal for the United States to halt military and financial assistance to Greece and Turkey.

Taft, who heads the senate Republican policy committee, told a reporter his announced approval yesterday of the $400,000,000 aid bill now before the senate was given "reluctantly" and with the hope the program can be ended in a year or 15 months.

"Once the peace treaties are ratified," he said, "Russia is committed to withdraw her troops from the Balkan countries within 90 days, except for those left to protect communication lines in Austria."

Would East Threat
"If the Russians get out, as they have promised to do, I think the threat that Greece and Turkey will fall under Communist domination will end. In that case, I can see no further reason for our continuing to give them assistance."

Some administration officials have expressed the hope that the aid program can be completed in 15 months. The current appropriation asked by President Truman covers only the period to July 1, 1948, but Mr. Truman has left open the question of how much longer assistance may be needed.

Taft's reluctance to support the President's program of intervening in Greek and Turkish affairs seemed to be reflected in the senate's dragging debate on the issue, now in its fourth day.

When Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) ended a lengthy criticism yesterday of aid to Turkey—which he called "a Fascist military dictatorship"—Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the foreign relations committee took advantage of a lull in the talk to gain senate approval of a series of committee amendments to the bill.

All were adopted by voice vote, with fewer than a score of members present.

They included Vandenberg's amendment permitting the United Nations to call a halt to American assistance to the two countries when two-thirds of the general assembly or seven of the 11 Security council members finds that U. N. action is capable of supplanting American aid.

Arrest Motorist After Collision

George S. Watson, 18, of East Palestine, was arrested on a charge of failing to stop at an intersection after his car struck a truck, driven by Joseph Hauser, 40, of Chicago, at the intersection of Route 14 and the New Waterford-Petersburg road at 9 p. m. Thursday.

State highway patrolmen filed the charge against Watson, who suffered a possible broken collar bone in the accident. Four other young people, ranging from 16 to 21 in age, were uninjured in Watson's car.

Watson's case is pending.

Commercial Dye Atomic Antidote

CHICAGO, April 11—A commercial dye, toluidine blue, has been found to be a potent antidote to one of the most deadly effects of the atom bomb, two University of Chicago scientists reported today.

The dye, a blood-clotting agent, counteracts the blood "thinning" effect of over exposure to atomic particles and rays. Such rays are released in an atom bomb explosion and are a possible danger in the peacetime use of atomic energy.

These rays and particles caused the eventual death from hemorrhaging of many of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki victims who survived the blast shock and heat of the atomic explosion. Physicians at that time were powerless to stop extensive bleeding of the victims through capillary tissue.

While The Gittin's Good

American promises to help fight totalitarianism abroad won't mean much if free enterprise doesn't remain healthy at home.

The toughest problem to be solved today isn't in the Middle East, but here at home, and it's name is price inflation.

In past comments on wage raises with no corresponding increase in efficiency, we have said that this was inflation. That was correct. Arbitrary boosting of wage rates in the attempt to perpetuate war-boom income has backfired. As consumers, Americans are reaping the whirlwind of labor costs that went up without corresponding increases in efficiency, a form of inflation.

But responsibility for robbing the dollar of its value isn't confined to citizens trying to stretch the war boom in wage rates. It is shared by those trying to stretch war profits. Prices aren't high merely because organized labor has tried to get something for nothing. They are high, also, because employers of labor and handlers of labor's output are getting more money without corresponding increases in value. Not all the increases they have made in selling prices can be blamed on increases in labor costs. They, too, have been trying "to get a-plenty while the gittin's good."

"Gittin' a-plenty while the gittin's good" can't be called economic statesmanship by any stretch of imagination. Labor leaders flunked dismally when the time came for them to prove they could see further than the ends of their noses. The leaders of American business are taking the same test now.

No one is presuming to say how much prices could be reduced; the amounts are variable. Some prices can't be reduced at all. A few must go up, no doubt. But it's a fact that some prices have gone up unreasonably. There has been no economic statesmanship. There has been nothing but the rule of dog eat dog, kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, eat-drink-and-be-merry-for-tomorrow-we-die-and "git a-plenty while the gittin's good."

The sudden concern about high prices in this country is the instinct of a relatively intelligent population to avert economic disaster. Americans don't like to believe they must have inflation like the Chinese, for instance, because they believe they're smarter than the Chinese.

It is a problem in values, something to be solved by individual Americans pooling their intelligence. The government can't do it, which was the reason for abandoning OPA. If it can be done at all, it must be done by the people themselves, backing up the proud American boast that in this country the intelligence of everybody is infinitely greater than the intelligence of a handful of politicians.

And if it can be done at all it will be done by millions of Americans deciding that there is some rule of life higher than "gittin' a-plenty while the gittin's good."

The Answer Is No

If the National Maritime Union has its way, members of the wartime merchant marine will be entitled to benefits under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Let's see now. During the war members of the merchant marine had draft deferment; civilian rights; a choice as to when and where to sail; overtime for work in excess of eight hours a day; bonuses for voyages to certain areas and for presence on a vessel undergoing attack; the best food, including refrigerators for night snacks; and feather mattresses, pillows and clean bed linen or extra pay in case they had to do their own laundry.

The G. I. had greetings from the President; discipline and a fully regimented existence; orders telling him when and where he would go; G. I.chow; pay far below the merchant marine scale with no overtime or bonuses; and straw mattresses when available.

Ask any G. I. who has been around members of the merchant marine if he believes they should be entitled to veterans' benefits. His answer might not be printable, but its context would be "NO!"

Everybody's Waiting

Engene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, has gone considerably out of his way to show contempt for the House committee on un-American activities. The question is whether or not the Department of Justice, on the committee's request, will give Dennis the works. Everybody's waiting to see what happens.

Unfortunately, the question cannot be answered yes. Unless the Department of Justice has had a change of heart about party Communists who show contempt for congressional committees, Dennis has nothing to fear. There have been 30 contempt cases turned over to the department since 1940. Six have been handled, and five of these were Communist cases. These resulted in one dismissal, one acquittal and three piddling fines with suspended jail sentences. "If you wonder why the Communists are given a free hand in America," complained Representative Mundt of S. Dakota last February, "one emphatic reason is because after you cite them for contempt nothing happens out of the attorney general's office."

Confederate Spies

"Their agents are among us constantly," says Ohio State Coach Wesley Fesler of scouts from southern universities who are on the prowl in Ohio communities for young athletes willing to dedicate themselves to the glory of Dixie football in return for a college education and certain—ah—emoluments.

If Mr. Fesler had said this in a whisper, the effect would have been more melodramatic, but proselytizing is not a melodramatic activity. The bland accent, the southern courtliness, the extolling of everything southern in the Senator Claghorn manner, the hale stranger with tales of far-off hills being greener—these are what Ohio's scholastic athletes should be on the lookout for.

Ohio State's coach gives a sage word of caution when he says that in the hands of a football bum or a tramp athlete a southern college diploma may have no more value than a Confederate shin-plaster.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, April 12

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

THERE are favorable signs of a clearing up of inharmonious and disagreeable domestic, social, or affectional relations, either by a change of heart or by the intervention of some rational and peaceful consideration of the underlying sources of disagreement and disturbance.

However, any tricky or illicit attempts to compose conditions by way of schemes, misrepresentation, possible greed or imposition would but aggravate rather than amend. Study a delicate situation wisely.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have an opportunity to compose difficult and delicate situations affecting the social, domestic, or romantic affiliations, which may have been in a devastating and disintegrating state.

Such compromise may be affected by an honest analysis of difficulties and discord with a keen and kindly rationalization of affairs, but without resort to any form of treachery, underhanded methods or greedy subterfuge which would not amend but accent the unhappy circumstances.

A child born on this day may be gentle, kindly and affectionate, although prone to underhanded methods for gaining its ends.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Incomplete Tonsil Operation

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IT is a well-known fact that the most frequent operation in the United States today—and for many years past—is that for the removal of tonsils.

What is less well known is that at times these operations are incomplete with the result that tonsil stumps remain to cause infection and menace health.

That, at any rate, is the opinion of a father-and-son team of doctors of Indianapolis, Drs. Carl B. Sputh, Jr., and Sr., who estimate that by the age of 16 years, one-third of all children have had their tonsils removed.

According to these doctors, the majority of persons with infected tonsil stumps are not conscious of any discomfort in the throat. Rather, the infection seems to affect the whole body and patients complain of feeling tired, losing weight, joint pains, pains in the arms and legs and, in some cases, frequent attacks of fever.

In some patients, there is chronic infection of the sinuses connected with the nose, or of the middle part of the ear.

Sore Throat

In children there may be repeated attacks of sore throat and enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck.

In order to make a diagnosis of infected tonsil stumps, a careful examination is necessary. On such examination the tonsil stump usually may be seen. However, in some cases it may be hidden by scar tissue.

The tonsillar stump may appear reddened and swollen. Of course, not all tonsil stumps are infected, but such infection does appear to take place in many cases.

Recommended Treatment

The treatment recommended is, of course, removal of this tonsillar tissue. The mere fact that it is present does not mean that the physician who performed the original operation was careless, as tonsil tissue may regrow from only a few cells which may have been left after an operation.

Before the tonsillar stumps are removed the Doctors Sputh recommend that the teeth and gums be carefully examined and any infection present in them be cleared up.

After removal of the tonsil stumps, of course, all symptoms which were produced by them will disappear. The operation itself is not a difficult one to carry out, and complications do not usually occur.

Ida Florence Poulton Weds Hillis Gray At Columbiana

The Columbiana Grace Reformed church was the scene of a beautifully appointed spring wedding at 7:30 p. m. Thursday when Miss Ida Florence Poulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Poulton of Columbiana, became the bride of Howard Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Gray of Winona.

Approximately 100 relatives and friends witnessed the exchange of vows.

Mr. Poulton escorted his daughter to an altar lighted by white candles in tall seven-branch candelabra, and set with a profusion of palms and ferns with a center arrangement of white flowers.

Just before the double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Walden J. Bartels, the pastor, Miss Phyllis Starkweather of Alliance, classmate of the bride, sang, "Through The Years" and "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied by Miss Gladys Peppel, church organist, who played the musical prelude including, "O Promise Me," "Because," "Always" and "Apple Blossom Time."

The bridal chorus from Lohengrin heralded the approach of the bride party and Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

While the couple knelt at the altar, Miss Starkweather sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

The ushers, John Poulton of Akron and William Poulton of Columbiana, brothers of the bride, and Donald Cockcock of Winona, led the bridal procession.

Miss Mary Poulton, sister of the bride, junior bridesmaid, and Miss Connie Griffin of Columbiana, bridesmaid, preceded Miss Jo Baughman, classmate of the bride, maid of honor, who was followed by the bride.

The bride wore a handsome white gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, pointed bodice with a fitted bodice and a full skirt with a long train. Her double net finger-tip veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias.

Miss Baughman was gowned in pink tulle of tulle and carried a bouquet of tallies and roses, while Miss Griffin and Miss Poulton appeared in blue gowns of the same material. Their colonial bouquets were of pink roses and daisies.

The attendants' gowns were styled alike with high necks, cap sleeves, semi-fitted bodices attached to full skirts with bustles.

George Lozier, Jr., of Salem, was best man.

Reception In Church

A reception was held in the social room of the church. The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and graced with a tiered wedding cake flanked with tall white candles.

Miss Ida Gelbreath of Canton, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Wayne Bunt of Austintown, sister of the groom; and Miss Ruth Gray of Nevada, Ill., served.

Mrs. Poulton, the bride's mother, was costumed in a black and rose print with matching accessories, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Gray, was attired in a salmon colored dress. Both wore corsages of pink roses and daisies.

Guests were from Columbiana, Salem, Winona, Alliance, Akron, Stowe, Sharon, Pa., Niles, Lisbon and Austintown.

The bride graduated from the Columbiana High school and the Akron City hospital school of nursing.

Mr. Gray, who spent three years in the army during World War II, is an employee of the Electric Furnace Co.

After a honeymoon trip, the couple will reside in Winona.

For traveling the bride wore a winter white wool pin striped suit with brown accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Randall of Newcomerstown, Miss Wilma Anderson and Ernest Eloff of Salem, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler and family, W. Second st.

Mrs. Gregory Stowell and Mrs. Frank Mounier were Thursday evening guests of Mrs. Robert Gray of Youngstown.

Mrs. H. A. Greiner of S. Lincoln ave. has returned from Miami, Fla., where she spent some weeks with her son, Hiram Greiner and family.

Thirl Eckstein and son, Ricky, of Decatur, Ga., are visiting his mother, Mrs. G. A. Eckstein of E. State st.

DID you ever notice with what ease children who have been separated from their friends by time and distance pick up the friendship right where they left off the minute they are re-united? It's not that simple for grownups.

They have a certain formula which is supposed to bridge the gap of time and distance.

They have to say in words how glad they are to see each other. They have to go through the "you're looking fine" routine.

They have to ask politely about each other's families. They have to apologize for not having been better about writing. And by the time they've done all that they really begin to feel like strangers, struggling to make conversation.

SIMPLE TECHNIQUE

Children have the right idea. They don't try to build any bridge across the past. They just look at each other, grin, and pick up right where they left off.

If we could manage their technique, meeting friends we haven't seen in a long time wouldn't be so awkward and dull.

And their way is really pretty simple. They just ignore the gap made by time, distance, and unshared experiences and get down to the business of "now."

LISBON BRIEFS

Walter Anderson of Milwaukee, biologist with the soil conservation service, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Lisbon Kiwanis club in the Christian church Thursday, speaking on the subject of "Conservation of Wildlife."

TIME-DAYLIGHT 'Daylight' After Sundown Planned In City Square

SAN FRANCISCO—Union Square, a block-sized area of lawns, shrubs, flowers and sidewalks over the top of a large underground garage in the center of San Francisco's business district, soon will be the brightest spot in town.

The city will install 16 mercury vapor lights, each giving off twice as much light as lamps now in use. They will replace the six street lights now rimming the square.

Utility Manager James H. Turner said the new lighting would give the square its nearest possible approach to "post-sunset sunlight" and will make the area as safe for pedestrian and automobile traffic at night "as in broad daylight."

First sleeping car was built in Canada. It was specially constructed at Brantford, Ont., for the Prince of Wales (later Edward VII) on his visit to Canada in 1869, and was designed by Thomas Burnley, a shop foreman.

Pilot's Wife Keeps Tab On Hubby: Uses Radio

CLEVELAND—Even airlines pilots scurrying back and forth across the continent can't escape the watchful eyes of their wives. Blonde Mrs. Mae Jenkins says a short wave radio band on the living room console is a necessity for pilots' wives. When Capt. Jack Jenkins, who pilots an American Airlines flight from Cleveland to Nashville three times a week, returns from a flight, Mrs. Jenkins always has supper on the stove and his slippers ready.

She picks up his position report to the airport on their home short wave band and knows when it's time to start dinner.

Cafe Diners In Berlin Required To Rent Cutlery

BERLIN—An old and distinguished restaurant in the heart of Berlin, where some of Germany's important politicians of the imperial days used to gather, recently reopened its doors.

A hundred pairs of its fine old knives and forks were laid out for the occasion.

That was a mistake in these days when knives and forks are virtually impossible to buy in Berlin. The guests took them all.

Now, if you want to dine in that restaurant you must make a deposit of 50 marks for the use of a knife and fork.

Ohio Auto Plate Next Year To Be Black, Yellow

COLUMBUS, April 11—Ohio auto license plates next year will have black numbers on a lemon yellow background. Edward T. Fogo, state registrar of motor vehicles, announced today.

Fogo also said that orders for two plates for each car had been placed with the Ohio penitentiary, which manufactures them.

Bills pending in the legislature to require only one plate are merely intended to make this legal should materials be too scarce for the manufacture of the customary two plates, Fogo explained.

Assistant Commissioner Of Athletics Is Named

COLUMBUS, April 11—Ivan W. Davis, principal of Upper Arlington High school, today was appointed assistant commissioner of Ohio high school athletics, effective May 1. Commissioner H. W. Emswiler announced.

Davis, member of the Upper Arlington school system for 22 years, and principal of the high school the last six, was named by the state board of control.

Principal duties of the new assistant commissioner, the first named in Ohio, will be to make an extensive study of the newly-adopted pupil-athlete insurance plan to be handled through the OHSAA office.

Warns of Depression
COLUMBUS, April 11—Repetition of the 1929 depression would plunge America into "state socialism" or its equivalent, Charles P. Taft, president of the Federal Council of Churches in America, said in an address last night.

Because politics and economics are fundamentally problems of "human relations" Taft asserted, they essentially are "religious."

The first known use of tea was in China in 2737 B. C.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, April 11—Here's where you come in on all this talk about high prices.
Your cost of living has gone up 53 percent since 1939.
That's why every housewife knows the meaning behind President Truman's appeals to businessmen to cut prices.
The President is so worried about prices now that he called a special cabinet meeting today to talk about them.
He has reason to be worried. So do you. We're having a real inflation, you may not like the word. But that's it.
You may not like to hear this, either, but it is what's beginning to scare some businessmen and government officials.
Unless prices start coming down we may have a "recession." That's a pretty word, "recession." It's fancy for "depression."
A recession may start by being only a mild depression but, once it starts, no one can tell when it will plunge into a real depression.
Sounds gloomy? Maybe so. But that's where we stand at this minute: We have inflation and may have a recession.

This will show you just how real the inflation is by showing you what happened to your living costs since World War II start in August, 1939.

Between August, 1939, and June, 1946, the cost of living rose 33 percent.
But that was only a 33 percent rise in six years and eight months. In the next eight months—between June, 1946, and February, 1947—living costs jumped another 20 percent, or 53 percent above August, 1939.

Living costs hit that 53 percent mark last December. They've stayed there. They're there now.
Why the terrific jump between June, 1946, and February, 1947? Because in that time OPA all but died and almost all price controls went out the window.

Businessmen wanted it that way. So did a lot of congressmen. Businessmen, great believers in "free enterprise," said this:
"Take controls off. We'll produce goods. We'll compete with one another for customers. We'll have to cut prices to get customers."
It sounded good. But it didn't happen. Businessmen jacked up their prices and they've kept them there.

This isn't true of all businessmen.

Ford, Plymouth, International Harvester and some others—but not many—have cut prices in an attempt to get other businessmen to follow them.

Few have followed. Last Saturday President Truman asked businessmen, not to "go whole hog for profits."

He said that if they don't stop being hungry for profits, this will happen:

People will stop buying. Which will mean business will have to cut down on the amount of goods it produces. In turn, that will mean men thrown out of jobs. Then we'll have the recession.
A lot of businessmen complain now they're afraid to cut prices because they don't know what wage demands the big unions will make. (A number of big unions are bargaining now, or getting ready to bargain, for higher wages.)

But the other side of that argument is: The higher prices stay the higher wages labor will demand. This whole problem has become so serious that R. H. Macy and Company, in last Sunday's New York Times, bought a full page advertisement to appeal to business everywhere to cut prices.

Winding up, the ad said: "Macy's does not believe a recession is inevitable" if businessmen will get together to cut prices.

The next day the New York Times made a nationwide survey of key cities and found people were beginning to stop buying because prices are too high.

'The Thing Is To Make The People Good . . .'

By ARTHUR RICKERBY
NEA Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — This was to be an important session of the United Nations Security Council.

Before him at the horseshoe-shaped council table, United States delegate, Warren Austin had two sheaves of paper. One was the speech he was going to make to explain U. S. aid to Greece. The other was a letter from 26 kindergarten school children.

' . . . Little People Make The Whole World'

These are little people—future grownups—in kindergarten class. Their rapt attention is for a letter from America's UN delegate Warren Austin, being read by their teacher, Alma Haring. The words about "little people," directly above, are from Austin's letter. The words above the picture are from another letter, written by these children, which brought Austin's answer.

Both had to do with peace for the world.

"Dear Senator Austin," the letter from the children began.

"War is fighting. People hate and take people's clothes away. They should think to not make a war. They shouldn't have guns.

"In Sunday school they say: 'Thou shalt not kill.' The thing is to make the people good by giving them good training in this world.

"We love you."

"The thing is to be very kind. Why don't they love one another and help everybody? And make some buildings for families to have some more cows and horses and lambs. And apple trees and pear trees and peach trees. And train the people to make things: To be a barber and things like that.

"Please ask God kindly to make the people across the ocean and the Americans, too—every little boy and girl in every country—to make them better.

The formal signature was Kindergarten Playmates." Beneath that were the names, in crude, but firm block letters: Carol, David, Ronny, Judith, Pat, Helen, Beverly, Lorraine, and 12 others. It was their letter, ideas they had formed as they talked about the world with their classroom teacher, Miss Alma Haring, at Public School 90, Richmond Hill, N. Y.

To Carol, David, Ronny and all the others, Delegate Austin wrote this answer:

"Little people make the villages, the nation, and the whole world.

"Your part in this great plan of our Heavenly Father is important. In fact, the plan could not work without you. I have been greatly helped in my public service by the love of the little children, expressed in many ways. Your letter confirms my faith in the great purpose upon which 51 nations are serving. I hope that you will continue to develop the ideas you have so beautifully expressed in your letter."

In the Security Council chamber, the gavel rapped sharply. A voice announced: "The one hundred and twenty-eighth session of the United Nations Security Council is now in session."

Senator Austin carefully folded the letter from Carol, David, Ronny and all the other, and put it away in his pocket.

FROM HIS CRIB in the Norwalk, Conn., hospital, Franklin D'Ull, 3, shows his appreciation to the public for giving him a chance to live. Hopeful Discovery

WORKING in his laboratory in Rome is Dr. Francesco Guarnieri whose recent discovery "F. A. 2," a chemical extract, has won favorable attention in European medical circles. Would Give Saar Region To France, But Not Ruhr

MOSCOW, April 11.—The United States and Britain agreed tonight to French demands for detachment of the Saar from Germany and economic integration of the Saar area with France.

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall proposed that initial steps to that end be taken by the Council of Foreign Ministers immediately. Both Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin opposed however, a French proposal that the industrial Ruhr be detached from Germany.

Deadly Munitions To Lie 500 Fathoms Under Ocean

BELLE CHASSE, La.—Buried deeply in concrete vaults here are the grimmest souvenirs of war. The U. S. Navy says even the vaults are not safe enough for this "volatile backwash of war"—munitions once intended for use against Japan. So the Navy is moving them to a safer place, some 500 fathoms (3,000 feet) below the waves of the Gulf of Mexico, at Area X.

Included in the stores are corroded mines, weather-whipped ammunition, bombs that may have seen too much sun on a Pacific atoll, and other explosives that bring out the brilliant red flags when LST 528 makes her trips to the disposal ground.

A Frenchman, M. de Sivrac, is said to have originated the idea for a bicycle. His first machine appeared in Paris during 1890 and consisted of a wooden frame and two wheels. Locomotion was achieved by pushing on the ground with the feet.

14 Teams Left In Salem Tourney; AMVETS, United Win

Bennett's Last-Second Goal For Heimies Trips Warren

Excitement reached a peak Thursday night in the Memorial building when several of seven games in the Salem Invitational Basketball tournament turned out to be thrillers.

The gym was packed with spectators throughout the evening and filled to overflowing for the final tilt, that between the Salem AMVETS and Columbiana's Coppicks. The AMVETS played a brilliant up-hill game to finally win from Coppicks 40-36, after they had trailed badly in the first half by as much as 10 points.

Coppick's, composed of this year's Clipper team and two from their 1945 squad, started off fast and led until two minutes of the third quarter had been played. In the final period the score was knotted at 36-all with two minutes to go, following which four AMVET free throws pulled the game out.

The margin of victory was in the foul shooting department, with Salem caging 14 to the visitors' 10. Sam Priddy hit 11 points for the winners and Harry Case had 12 for Coppicks.

In the most exciting tilt of the evening, the East Liverpool Heimies turned back a good Warren Independents team 54-53, in a game that was as close as the score indicates.

Warren overcame a slight lead in the final two minutes to go ahead with 20 seconds to play 53-52. However, one of their shots rolled off the hoop and was taken by the Heimies. With about four seconds remaining on the clock Bennett of the Heimies shot a running two handed shot from the center line that hit the cords for the winning points.

Bennett led the scoring with 18 points.

United Tool & Die, Salem's only other survivor, won their contest from the Youngstown Motors 51-47, only after a hard, rough game. Ray McGaffie paced the scoring with 16 points with Francis Lanney netting 13.

Canton Cal's Place rolled up the highest score of the tournament against Todd's News Agency in beating them 71-43. The local club, featuring the amazing play of Bob "Bullet" Schaefer, held about even the first quarter, but fell hopelessly behind after that point.

One of the tourney's powerhouses, Vienna Scott's Service, looked very impressive in winning from a tough Sharon Westinghouse five 53-48.
